

Research Seminar Series

Zoltan Hajnal

"Immigrant Context and the Policy Preferences of Native White Americans"

Wednesday, May 21

3:30pm

Institute of the Americas Complex
Deutz Conference Room

Zoltan Hajnal joined the Political Science Department at UCSD in 2001. Currently he is a visiting scholar at the Center for U.S.-Mexican Studies. His areas of research include racial and ethnic politics, urban politics, direct democracy, and political behavior. In addition, his works have appeared in the American Political Science Review, the Journal of Politics, Social Science Quarterly, and other journals and edited volumes. His published work has focused on minority representation, racial segregation, interest group politics, and neighborhood poverty. He is currently working on a book manuscript that examines the impact of black mayoral leadership on white racial attitudes and voting behavior. In a new, but related project, he is examining the multiple dimensions of Independent party choice. Hajnal was a former research fellow at the Public Policy Institute of California and a Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow at Brandeis University.

There is no cost of admission. Event is open to the public. For driving directions, please visit the Center's website at <http://www.usmex.ucsd.edu>. For additional information, call Mr. Greg Mallinger at (858)822-1696 or by e-mail at gmallinger@ucsd.edu.